NEWSLETTER OF THE ST KILDA BOAT CLUB

June 2023

From the Poop Deck

Steve Vines, Commodore

Well done to Committee members Paul, Alana, Ian and others who welcomed members from our sister club Garden Island Yacht Club earlier this month for a pleasant weekend in our marina. It's a credit to many members that we enjoy good relations and share the fellowship of the sea with other boat clubs around Barker Inlet and the Port River.

Thanks to those involved in our recent working bee. It has produced obvious improvements around the club and a special shout out to Paul Crouch who single handedly dug the service trench out to B row recently (ok he did have a great big machine to help)

In my day job I am required to attend many events, shake lots of hands and speak with a wide range of people and the inevitability of coming into contact with Covid is ever present. And so, it was no surprise late last week when I registered a weak positive on a RAT. Fortunately, being fully vaccinated, I barely noticed anything more than a sniffle and I'm now clear but the fact is there is a lot of Covid out there so as I say each month stay safe in your communities and out on the water.

All the best

Steve Vines

THE BIRDS OF ST KILDA Sacred Kingfisher

Among the thousands of black swans, welcome swallows, large and small egrets, seagulls and cormorants, this beauty can also grace our little harbour. This is the Sacred Kingfisher and although widely spread across Australia, it is a special event to see one especially with camera in hand. Photo by Art Hohmann was taken on the 10 May on the railing of the gangway leading to A row.
